A sketch of a cityscape, likely a view from a hill or balcony. It features several buildings with gabled roofs, some with hatched shading to indicate texture or depth. A tall, narrow chimney or tower stands prominently in the center. The drawing is done in brown ink on aged, slightly textured paper. The foreground shows a rough, horizontal line suggesting a ledge or the ground.
